

Capacity Building

How to Write a Business Plan: Fredericton Food Bank (March 2012)

A community school workshop, led by a local consultant, was held to teach participants the skills to write a successful business plan. The team applied these new skills when crafting the new Community Food Center business plan for Greener Village. This business plan enabled the team to leverage necessary funding from multiple sources in order to bring their vision for an expanded community food center into fruition.
