

NB Point-in-Time Count 2023

Call for Volunteers – We need your help!

The Human Development Council and the provincial department of Social Development have partnered to launch the 2023 New Brunswick Point-in-Time Count (PIT) to be held between April 14 – 18, 2023 over a 24 hour period.

The PiT Count is a survey that will provide your community with a snapshot of absolute homelessness over an established period of time. A properly planned and executed PiT Count will provide important information on the extent of homelessness and the causation and characteristics of those experiencing homelessness in a community. A PiT Count is one of several tools used to better understand homelessness and will help local and provincial efforts to prevent and reduce homelessness. Conducting a PiT Count is an important part of any community response to homelessness. It is one data collection strategy among many that can be used to identify trends and inform policy decisions. Your participation is greatly appreciated.

This year the communities participating are Fredericton, Saint John, Moncton, Bathurst, Miramichi, Edmundston and Charlotte County. We will be reaching out in the next few weeks to connect you with the contact person in your area.

What you can expect:

- Training
- Volunteering alongside community partners
- A better understanding of homelessness in your community
- A direct experience of value and making a difference
